London 14,—A correspondent of the Morning Post in Berlin states: Caprivi in his speech in the Reichstag yesterday, has placed himself amongst the first statesmen in Europe. In the lobbies it was stated that very little difference existed between him and his predecessor. He made a magnificent speech, and concluded by congratulating the Emperor on the position he held to-day.

The Correspondent of the Times in Berlin states:—

His speech was a master-piece, combining the frankness of the soldier with the suavity of the diplomatist. He never faltered for a word and sometimes his eloquence was sublime, never straying away from his subject for a moment. His coolness is wonderful and his adversaries will have little chance of irritating him, as they used to do with Prince Bismarck.

FINANCIAL WRECKAGE.

As time wears on, we begin to see and feel more keenly the many opportunities the Government has let escape, the many errors it has perpetrated and the sheer madness that dictated the financial policy of 1889, when a sham prosperity lured a Finance Minister into the sale of the most valuable resources of the Treasury. But a year ago, Dr. Pacheco abandoned the port-folio of finance, leaving in the Treasury a stock of gold of nearly fifty million dollars; he left also bills running that would supply the Treasury with thirty millions more gold. With ordinary prudence and a little common sense any finance minister could have controlled the market and hoarded up this enormous gold reserve. Gold was then quoted at an average of forty per cent premium, more or less. Had Dr. Pacheco continued a year longer in the finance office, there can be little doubt that all that gold would be still in the National Treasury and the gold premium under fifty per cent to-day. These financial recriminations are suggested by a study of the President's Message and a comparison of its contents with the never-to-be-forgotten message of 1889. On the 6th of May, 1889, President Juarez said in his message:—

"I close the chapter on Finance with one that is new in Presidential Messages. The nation now holds such large sums, and is so bound to guard them to meet in time the conversion of the note issues of the guaranteed banks, that it must now institute a National Treasury, so that all may be able to see, by the periodical publication of its balances, what cash it has on hands. A Bill will be laid before you for this purpose; but, meanwhile, I must give you a statement of the sums now at the disposal of Government, of how they are being employed, and of the mobilization of part of them. This mobilization was effected by decree, to facilitate the settlement of gold sales on the Bolsa and supply coin for commercial necessities. This has led to the conversion into legal tender notes of part of the gold the Government held, a conversion begun in 1888 to pay off the Hard Dollars and other debts.

The National Treasury now holds:

Gold, in National Bank, on April 15th	32,084,746
Gold, in Provincial Bank	2,825,663
	34,910,400
This sum reduced to legal tender notes at 155 represents	54,116,638
Notes in National Bank on April 15th	22,828,000
To credit of Treasury in same Bank on same date	2,100,000
	79,044,633
180,000 National Bank shares	45,980,000
39,202 (£20) C. A. Railway shares	9,100,000
78,404 (£5) do. do.	1,870,000
	56,950,000
To receive for C. I. Works sold (gold)	$20,000,000
Do. do. C. N. Railway sold	4,000,000
Do. do. Andine do. do	6,000,000
(Gold)	30,000,000
Which is equal in currency to	46,500,000
Thus it can be seen that the Treasury holds in legal currency	79,044,633
In negotiable shares	56,950,000
In money to receive	46,500,000
A grand total of	182,494,633

or 31,000,494 dollars more than the total issue of bank notes, which is 151,000,000.

"The Treasury is in receipt annually of 9½ million dollars for interest on shares and cash in bank, a sum sufficient to pay the interest on both the Home and Foreign Debts.

"I will close this chapter on the Finances by stating that the public wealth has considerably increased; that trade and national production are growing rapidly and vigorously; that there is credit now where it did not before exist, that the revenue is increasing and the public debt decreasing, and that for the first time the Finance Minister, with your permission, can dispose of 182,494,633 in in cash and securities, negotiable in a few days; a sum much greater than all the bank-note issue of the Republic; or, in other words, sixty millions more than the total home and foreign debts now in circulation."

In the above we see that in May 1889 already the large gold stock left by Dr. Pacheco had been considerably dimished —the beginning of that fatal policy that has landed us in the present crisis. Yet on May 6th 1889 the position of the Treasury was impregnable and gave promise of a colossal gold security against the issue of paper. To-day we see the wreckage of all these hopes in the figures of the message of the 10th inst. In one short year the foundations of that treasury have been shaken and to make up for the disappearance of millions the only rescue is a foreign loan. Meantime, for the sake of comparison we shall reproduce the statements of the President's message still echoing in the market:—

"I now proceed to enumerate the principal items of the funds belonging to the nation, represented by the amounts on deposit in the banks and existing in the Treasury, by National Bank and Central Argentine Railway shares, by land purchased, with a view to starting colonies thereon, payments made for public works which, as in the case of the port works, might have been effected in National bonds, but which were paid in cash, the Government preferring this course to emitting any more bonds bearing a high interest. The following are the items:

	Gold $	Paper $
Sums on deposit in National Bk. and Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres in the name of the Government	17,577,590	43,353,342
Bills for Customs dues and for lands sold, in Treasury	—	1,813,979
Nat. Bank shares belonging to Government at 150 o/o	—	30,000,000
Central Argentine R. R. belonging to Government	—	—
39,102½ shares of £20 each, worth nominally dols. 1,951,612 gold, and at market value of 150	5,927,418	—
78,405 shares of £5 each quoted at par	1,975,806	—
117,607 new shares of £5 each, 20 o/o paid up	592,739	—
Instalments of City Improvements not yet due	14,000,000	—
Payment for acc. of the Port Works in the place of emitting 6 o/o bonds	5,197,477	—
Payment to Bo. Constructor de La Plata for Police Barracks, in lieu of emitting 5 o/o bonds	—	1,115,894
Transferred to National Bank to integrate its capital of $50,000,000 in accordance with law Sept., 1889		6,727,600
Property bought as a site for Congress Hall, block comprised between Callao, Rodriguez Pena &c.		393,223
Block between Victoria, Pozos, &c		5,994,611
Property purchased to start colonies, Yerna camp in Entre Rios	—	—
Surveys and other works		1,230,413
Camp in Cordoba, surveys & other works		1,512,124
Several sums transferred and to be returned	2,292,173
Gold	47,563,203	92,140,187

"The sum of 24,162,742 dollars gold in bills of the Free Banks, and which are held in the Inspection Office, is not set out in the above statement of values, since it corresponds to the issue of public bonds of the law of 3rd November, 1887, which gives no interest."

Thus in reality the Treasury holds, rather has deposited in the State banks, 17½ millions gold and 43½ millions paper, against 49 millions gold in February 1889, and 35 millions gold and 25 millions paper in May 1889. A tabular statement will show the respective situation at a glance:—

	May 1889	May 1890.
	Millions of dollars.
Gold	35	17½
Paper money reduced to gold	16	19½
	57	37

Thus the cash assets of the treasury have been "ostensibly" reduced in a twelve months by 14 million gold dollars. We say ostensibly for the gold and the paper deposits are locked up in the State banks and could not be withdrawn for years under present circumstances. This diminution in the treasury is not money spent—it is money lost in the sale of gold; it would have been as well to sink the amount in the river.

With a continuance of Dr. Pacheco's hoarding policy, the Argentine treasury would to-day hold, not ostensibly but in reality at sight, over sixty millions gold. The opportunity has been let slip; it will recur again as a foreign loan of 10 million sterling with the London bankers is now a fact. The experience of the financial experiments of 1889 serve as a lesson for 1890, and prevent a recurrence of a suicidal policy that would ruin the market irretrivably.

LONDON LETTER

GOOD FRIDAY.

A SENSATIONAL PAMPHLET.

(From our own Correspondent.)

April 4th.

Round and round goes the world and the years flit by. It seems but yesterday I preached my last Good Friday's sermon. I forget the text, but it could have had little interest compared with what mere shadows of coming events force upon our attention to-day. Whilst the great Republics of the civilized world—and the political philosopher includes England amongst them—remain comparatively still and secure on a democratic foundation, the Governments of Russia and Germany totter. The autocratic and absolute forms of government are falling without revolutions or much external agitation. They are simply being undermined by natural processes. The Emperor Constantine is said to have adopted Christianity more from policy than from religious persuasion. The new ideas which developed with Christianity were incompatible with the Cæsars. Constantine accommodated himself to circumstances; and with more success did what the first Napoleon talked of, and what his nephew, Napoleon the Third, wrote about and spoke of amongst his familiars, and what William the Second of Germany is said to be now striving at. We can imagine the young Emperor arguing with his late Chancellor in this way: "You see how mere repression by military and official tyranny has failed against the Nihilists in Russia. Your own measures have similarly failed against Socialism here. Society must be saved. Socialism must be opposed, and there is only one way of doing it. I must make friends with the democracy you have alienated and which will defend the throne against the common enemy".

In these words is the gist of a pamphlet that is as yet barely published, and has only been seen by a few favoured people in Berlin, but has already made a great sensation in Vienna, to which city the main contents of the pamphlet have been wired. Rumour attributes the authorship of the publication to the German Emperor. It refers to recent events with an intimacy of knowledge that only he could possess. It repeats thoughts and sayings well known to be those of the Emperor. The title of the pamphlet is, "He goes; What now?" It states that there is in Berlin a secret society of patriots, among whose members are not only General von Caprivi, the new Chancellor, and the Minister of War, Gen. von Verdy du Vernois, but also the Emperor himself. These patriots propose to reconcile the Democratic parties which have been alienated by Prince Bismarck's and will advance in serried ranks against the common enemy of society as it is constituted to-day. The Emperor has adopted Lassalle's and Taine's theories, not with regard to politics, but with regard to social changes for the benefit of the people. He hopes that all Germany will form but two parties in future—one with him for a leader, the other in opposition to him and his reforms.

The publication repeatedly applies to the Emperor the apellation "Crowned Demagogue," adding that in the same sense Augustus and Savonarola deserve this appellation. The Emperor, it is further stated, cannot help seeing that the Monarchical principle is gradually sinking, and he regards it as a Monarch's last chance to snatch the reins from the hands of Democracy and undertake to regulate social questions for himself. The Emperor refuses to listen to voices of warning, and will take up the battle not only for himself but for all the shaken thrones of Europe. The pamphlet alludes to Prince Bismarck's resignation, and says that he was dismissed because the Emperor had learned enough from him. General von Caprivi is the man with the ostensible responsibility, but the real new Chancellor's name is William of Hohenzollern. The Socialist leaders are no longer in the foreground of political life since the Emperor has taken their work into his hands. They need not be pitied, for they have hitherto done no more than the Emperor himself—given promises for the future. The Emperor has this advantage over them, he has the power of keeping his promises. If he succeeds in realising his plans, Socialism will lie dead at his feet like the Dragon at the feet of Siegfried.

All that is exactly an "idee Napoleonienne." When in Paris, nearly thirty years ago, I remember writing an article in the London Morning Star, quoting the old motto "similia similibus curantur," in allusion to what then appeared to be the political intentions of Louis Napoleon. I had the satisfaction of seeing the Star confiscated on its arrival in Paris, and many angry replies in the French reptilian press But what I said was true. Only Louis Napoleon was weaker than the German Emperor, or his impresarios who had put him on the the throne were stronger or more unscrupulous than Prince Bismarck. Tiele de Morny, the Folis and Persignys wanted none of the Emperor's "ideas." They wanted his protection to rob. The poor wretch lost his chance and sickened by physical suffering, he first fell under petticoat government and then sank at Sedan and finally drivelled out of sight at Chiselhurst. The German Emperor may fare better, but one can fancy the "old pilot," as he went down the ship's side, saying to himself, "the young fool I tried to steer him clear of all rocks. To avoid one he is going to dash himself against another." By the way, Prince von Bismarck was awfully pleased with the cartoon in Punch, "Dropping the Pilot." He writes of it to a friend in London, saying, "it is fine." There seems now to be little doubt that the Prince was simply turned out; and he resents the indignity very much. He talks now of passing the summer in Italy, "mais l'homme propose." Russia is in a ferment. The sudden illness of the Czar was ascribed to poison, and there was at first a general suspicion that the announcement of his being taken with fainting fits was merely a Russian official mode of concealing the death of the Czar by assassination.

The disturbances among the students of the Russian universities appear to us a small matter arising from an absurdly inadequate cause. They wanted to read Tolstoi's "Kreutzer Sonata," and the authorities placed it in the "index expurgatorius." Of course, the prohibition means much more, and we know that the revolt of the students is in sympathy with a wide-spread Nihilist movement. A naval officer, who in the secret society drew the lot to assassinate the Czar, destroyed himself, not because he was averse to killing the Emperor, but because, as the poor man said, he did not wish to bring discredit upon his relations. Reading the now almost threadbare accounts of Russian grievances, one is painfully impressed with the fact that whether it be white Russia or Siberia or the British Republic and Ireland, the reactionary or conservative mind and its petty tyrannies are of the same type—of the same puddle and breed. The Czar is known to be a well-intentioned person, just as Lord Salisbury is, and his nephew too as far as we know. The spokesmen of the Russian Autocrat say exactly what Lord Salisbury was insolent enough to say of the Irish. The Russian reactionists have, we are told, hinted on various occasions that the students of the universities might perhaps obtain a renewal of their former privileges if they would abstain from all agitation for a number of years and thus deserve the Imperial favour. The Russian Government is reported to be very much displeased at the present moment, because from the severely coercive measures that had been adopted it was thought that agitation would be impossible. Could anything be more innocent? Or more like the Salisburians surprise at Irish discontent and the '20 years of strong government"? and promises of Imperial favours, on good behaviour.

Men's passion for gain is the obstruction, or all this tomfoolery would have ended long since. The German Emperor talks of attacking capital in the interest of the workers! "Lor blesse Sir" as the man in the Midshipsmite song says, whilst the Emperor is toasting the British fleet and entertaining the Prince of Wales, Major Wissmann has nobbled Emin Pasha who has entered the German service and with a large force of Soudanese and a lot of treaties with native chiefs in his pocket, and heaps of presents, is off again to Wadelai where he is supposed to have the intention of being paid £1000 a year salary by the German government and cutting off the English from all trade and communication north of the Victoria Nyanza and blocking us up in three hundred or four hundred miles of frontage between the sea and the Nyassa. Emin has issued a proclamation in Zanzibar denouncing Stanley &c. &c. Was there ever a greater joke? Our Geographical Society humbugs and adventurer-worshipping faddists spend three hundred thousand "buenos soberanos Ingleses, dragoncitos y todito"—to send that fellow Stanley to release Emin, who wanted no releasing but only wants to get back to his blacks, and although I should not say it, perhaps to his family. There is already much talk in England of sending off Stanley at once as Grand Mogul or British Commissioner General or something in East Africa and letting them fight it out between them. But as the Daily News observes, a great deal of nonsense on this subject is written here, and still greater nonsense in Germany. The Germans are perfectly in their right to employ Emin and do what they like within their own African sphere. We have yet to have it confirmed that Lord Salisbury has surrendered the Stevenson Road between Nyassa—not Nyanza as I said in my last letter by a slip of the pen—and Lake Tanganyika, or that the British and German governments are not perfec ly in accord in regard to questions that may arise in Africa. It was certainly one of Prince Bismarck's great fears that the Emperor's colonial mania would endanger the present good relations between the two countries; and now "He goes" and the deuce knows what may come next. In a very amusing imaginary conversation between William II. and the ex-chancellor in this month's Fortnightly, the writer, who seems to know something about it, speaks disparagingly of the young Emperor as one of those men who never mature. A boy at thirty, he will be still a boy, if he lives, at sixty. The writer forgets to remind us that such perennial juvenility is frequently a characteristic of genius; but more of literary and artistic genius perhaps than political and business genius. Macaulay was one of that kind, and I have known great inventors in mechanics to be equally immature in the ordinary sense. Edison, if I mistake not, is a living example. Pitts and Peels and Bismarcks are old at five and twenty. They are then in their groove and so remain. Nothing more is to be got out of them by keeping. They are not game; on the other hand Gladstone seems to have commenced his political life at sixty.

MADERO PORT WORKS.

TESTIMONIAL TO CAPT. ELLIS OF THE S.S. "Isabel."

A short time ago we had the pleasure of announcing that the Board of Trade had awarded to Captain Ellis their silver medal for saving life at sea, for his gallantry in rescuing the crew of the s.s. Sophia which was wrecked in the River Plate during a recent storm, and we have now the gratification of recording the presentation at the Port Works of a valuable gold watch and chain to Captain Ellis, which has been subscribed for by the united staffs of the Port Works, viz: Sr. Don Eduardo Madero, the concessionaire, Messrs. Hawkshaw and Hayter the Engineers, and the Exors. of the late Thomas A. Walker, the contractors.

The presentation was made by Mr. Jas. M. Dobson, the Chief Engineer of the works, in the following terms:—

I have a duty to perform to-day on your behalf which gives me, and I am sure will afford you very much pleasure—that of presenting Captain Richard Ellis with a gold watch and chain in recognition of the gallantry he displayed in rescuing the greater portion of the crew of the steamlighter "Sophia" which vessel, as you know, went down in the River Plate in August last year.

Personally I may say that in the "Sophia" I took a special interest, poor Captain Graham, who unfortunately lost his life on that occasion, being a man I recommended to the late Mr. Walker for an appointment on these works before any of his ships ever left England for the Plate; but although aid arrived too late to save his life, it was through no lack of courage on the part of Captain Ellis, who did his utmost.

As regards Englishmen, we feel the greatest pleasure and pride when we hear of deeds of bravery, holding, as we all do here, that the finest motto for an Englishman is Nelson's last signal—"England expects every man to do his duty"—duty which, nevertheless, often brings us into conditions of great peril, but at the same time affords occasions like the present.

It has been most gratifying to me to read in THE STANDARD's issue of Saturday that the Board of Trade, owing to the representations made through Mr. Walker's Office, decided to award Mr. Richard Ellis, master of the ship "Isabel", their silver medal and ten pounds in recognition of his gallantry when, by his own personal exertions, swimming with a rope from the boat of his vessel, he saved six men out of the rigging of the "Sophia," and that they have also awarded five pounds to the seaman who accompanied him in the rescuing boat.

In the name, therefore, of our fellow-countrymen, ourselves, the united staffs of the Buenos Ayres Harbour Works, and also in the name of the concessionaire of these works and his staff, I have the greatest pleasure in handing to you, Captain Richard Ellis, this gold watch and chain, trusting that you will be long spared, and feeling sure that should similar circumstances arise you, Captain Ellis, will be found to the fore.

Captain Richard Ellis, in accepting the testimonial, thanked the subscribers for their unexpected kindness.

"FROM ONE CAUSE OR THE OTHER".

To the Editor of THE STANDARD:

Dear Sir:—

The above is quoted from THE STANDARD (On 'Change) and goes on to say that shipping is keeping clear of the Madero Basin and Dock. You say Mr. Sampson's letter in the Nacion, relative to the want of a sufficient depth of water in the channel leading to the docks, had caused much comment in London. I will give you another, from the letter signed "Nauticus," showing the very dangerous state of the entrance to the Boca between the wreck of the piers which collapsed about a year ago. The Manager of the Platense Company was evidently quite alive to this fact, and used it to some effect by getting another indefinite lease of the anchorages off the passenger mole, which means continued risk and discomfort to passengers by the Company's vessels in the coming winter days. The steamship Marima, which holed herself against the wrecked piers on entering the Boca for repairs, is now loading; the loss on her damaged cargo alone amounts to about $40,000 gold, without counting repairs, loss of time, and ship disbursements. so I quite agree with you that (from one cause or the other) sufficient reasons may be found for keeping clear of the Port, and also very urgent ones for the authorities to bestir themselves and make up for the neglect of the past before other damages ensue, more especially as the Boca dues are heavy and ought to be more than sufficient to keep the channel free from obstructions and to make a sufficient depth of water for vessels to make use of the docks. The ship-owner has a right to demand this or object to charter for the Boca and its dock, remaining in the Roads, or what is more likely to happen, patronising La Plata, which has a much finer entrance to the Port and two feet more depth of water than the Boca Channel. Owners at home will very soon become aware of this and naturally give the preference to the Port that enables them to save large sums they have been accustomed to pay for lighterage from the outer Roads to enable their vessels to enter the Boca. I may mention one great want in La Plata: warehouses. Docks without warehouses are a slow, one-horse affair. The same may be said of many of the Argentine railroads, where goods have to rot and deteriorate in the open air. However, to be just I may state one other cause which I think may account for many vessels not entering the Port: the vessels delayed by the strike of Liverpool Dock labourers, but this is no excuse for the state of things as written above.

Yours truly,
Observer.

P.S.—Another fact: Last Tuesday on going to La Plata I counted 20 steamers in the Outer Roads, and the same day in No. 1 Dock one steamer and one in the Basin.

Railway Items.

Government has approved the plans of the B. Aires and Rosario Railway Bridge across the Rio Salado. This bridge is to have a length of two kilometres and will be built of iron.

The Russian government, says a London contemporary, seems to be seriously contemplating the construction of the great Siberian Railway entirely on its own account, thus carrying out its policy of having all the railways directly under state control. The question of funds, however, is still to be arranged. The development of the trade will be gradual, and the line is not likely to pay a dividend for some time, and even if the government pledged its credit, that does not stand sufficiently high to make it likely that the money would be forthcoming on easy terms. The line will be fully 4,300 miles long, and the preliminary estimate is about £28,000,000. The cost of construction per mile ought not to be very great, as the country traversed is mostly flat and well timbered, and there are few broad rivers to cross.

On Tuesday the La plata Deputies passed the Bill authorizing the Provincial Government to sell the Western Railway to Mr. H. G. Anderson in representation of a London syndicate. The only person who openly and vigorously opposed the bill was Deputy Monsalve, who began by pointing out that the name of only one witness, and not two, as the law specifies, figured at the foot of the contract. This objection, however, was soon overruled, and although there was no informing member in this case, the honorable gentlemen decided to approve the bill in general. Mr. Monsalve, in opposing the measure, pointed out the advisability of leasing the railway. On being put to the vote the bill was carried by a majority of three. It now goes before the Senate. Many people expected that the bill would have given rise to a warm debate, but its approval appears to be a foregone conclusion.

Messrs George A Schele and Company have applied to Congress for privilege to build without guarantee a broad gauge railway from Rio Cuarto to San Luis and San Juan.

The railway-managers have sent a petition to Congress for the alteration of certain clauses in the new commercial code in regard to railways.

We were somewhat mistaken in our remarks about a probable quarrel between the Government and the East Argentine Railway, and we have since learned that the guaranteed railway had asked Government to respect their charters which are endangered by the recent decree on direct and immediate intervention. Until Government decide the companies logically enough will not recognise the interventors appointed. We purpose giving more particulars on this subject shortly.

Telegrams from Santa Fe yesterday report great dissatisfaction there on account of the railway service which appears to be heavily taxed by the crops now coming down.

Telegrams from Rioja state that the Governor has granted an extension of time to the contractors for the proposed railway from San Martin to Rioja.

It appears that, in their economic mania, the Board of Public Works have economised too much and several railways in course of construction are left without inspectors. The Minister's attention has been called to this startling effect of the present crisis.

Dr. Araoz, chairman of the National Railway Board, has reported on the application filed some time ago by the Argentine Great Western Railway Board for an alteration of the plans of the North West Argentine (Villa Mercedes to La Rioja). The alteration consisted in changing the span of the proposed bridge of the North West Argentine across the rails of the other company near Villa Mercedes. The chairman recognises the right of any company to cross the rails of another at a high level. The chairman's report has been laid before the Minister, who has requested the Engineers' Department to give their view of the case.

Mr. Marco Dalla Rosa has been named assistant inspector on the Dean Funes and Chilecito staff.

THE POLITEAMA.

"DIVORCONS."

Although Sardou always writes in terse and literary style it cannot be asserted that he invariably produces interesting work: his dramas are far better than his comedies, and of these latter "Divorçons," given for the first time this season on Tuesday evening, cannot be accounted as in the first rank. Following his usual method, Sardou tells his story (which is so meagre that none but a master-hand could have spread it over 3 acts) by the aid of very few principals, in this case 3 only, and the assistance of a crowd of subsidiary, shadowy, minor personages who fulfil the functions of the classic Chorus. The real characters are, as usual in French comedy, the husband, the wife and the lover, and although many of the lines are, to say the least of it, a little "risqués," yet, contrary to traditional rule, it is the legitimate owner of the lady's hand who holds the trump card throughout and wins the game, to use a sporting phrase, in a canter. As the husband, that sound actor, Duquesne, began nervously but warming to his work was at his best in the second act, falling off again in the third; the part is a long and arduous one and calls for the utmost resources of any actor; taken all round, therefore, we can cordially congratulate M. Duquesne on his success. Huguennet played the role of Adhernard in his now well-known style and is undoubtedly a very able enactor of the "petit crevé" type of character. "Divorcons," however, was no doubt revived for the purpose of enabling Judic to repeat her quasi-creation of Cyprienne, for, although Madame Celine Chaumont was actually the first representative, yet she only played the part for a very short time and then relinquished it to Judic who acted it during the greater part of it's Paris run. The character suits the "Diva of the Hour" down to the ground; she is enabled to display all that power of cajolery, fickleness, quickness of apprehension and fascination which enables her to rank as unique in certain roles. If she have a fault it is a want of distinction and style which was clearly apparent in the first act, but the exquisite nuances of her scenes with Des Prunelles proved an ample compensation. Her acting in the difficult third act was marvellous in its completeness,—surprise at the novelty of her surroundings, half-terrified pleasure at the naughtiness of her position, her gourmandise, her growing disgust at the conduct of her lover and her dawning love for her husband were all frequently and perfectly expressed. It was a triumph of the actor's art and carried the play to a triumphant conclusion.

We must lodge a protest against the excessive length of the entre-acts; people like time to smoke a cigarette but object to have to wait 20 or 25 minutes between the acts; nothing is more calculated to weary and put an audience out of temper, and, where there is no elaborate scenery to be set, it seems an absolute nuisance.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Hurlinghamwards Ho! is the countersign in English circles to-day. The Clerk of the Weather told us in confidence last night that he intends to make it the finest day that ever came out of the Argentine heavens, as English ladies are special favourites of his, though he doesn't care much for the men. All about the special trains will be found in out advertizing columns. The pleasantest way to go is by Rural Tram. To-morrow will be another great day at Hurlingham, as the Polo tussle promises to be splendid. All the ponies from Santa Fe and Quilmes arrived yesterday. The teams to compete for the silver cups will be composed as follows:—

Mme. Judic scored another triumph in Divorcons in the Politeama on Tuesday night. The acting is worth travelling a long distance to see. To night M. Coquelin will appear in Gringorre, one of his best and more difficult characters and the one in which he has been most applauded. Mme. Judic will appear also this evening in the Precieuses Ridicules and Les Charbermiers. The bill of fare could not be more attractive and a full house will be present.

Talking of the Politeama Company we hear that M. Coquelin played not long ago in the Stadt-theater of Hamburg to such crowded houses that some nights the net receipts amounted to 28,000 marks. Mr. Pollini was director of the Company. Such was Mr. Coquelin's success that his Swiss and French admirers in Hamburg accompanied him nearly en masse on his tour to Copenhagen. Mr. de Glaser, the popular manager of the company in the Politeama is no doubt convinced that 20,000$ per night ought to be the average in B. Aires.

The exodus of emigrants continues. Fifteen hundred will leave in the Regina Margharita, and the chances are that the tables will be completely turned this month and the emigrants will exceed the immigrants. The worst of it is that those going home now were all "assisted" to come here only last year by Government, so the country loses in a double sense. In spite of the crisis all the flying Ligurians take savings home with them.

The attendance at the Exhibition has begun to fizzle. Nevertheless it was large and fashionable yesterday to see the horse trials, which were watched with evident enjoyment.

People are now getting so fond of Crisis literature that Mr. Guzman's well-known book "Oro" has reached a second edition. We thank Mr. Peuser for sending us a copy.

Judge Garay has just decided that Mr Santos M. Reynoso is "non compus mentis" in fact as mad as dozen hatters put together. Doctors Melendez, Catan and Maylioni examined the poor man and found him hopelessly "gone" His chief mania was a horror of women: he never allowed one on his estancia, not even the wives or girl children of his servants or "puesteras." He is a miser also, though rich. He greatly enjoys kicking and stamping on his own hat. In fact the poor gentlemen has no chance of recovering his wits, and must be placed under restraint for life.

The concert given by the Puerto Madero English Harmonic Society on Tuesday night was a great success. There were no less than twenty two items in the programme and almost as many performers, or rather singers, all of whom were deservedly applauded to the echo. Mrs. Campbell was pianiste and Mr. W. Best conductor, and both acquitted themselves admirably. The Duet by Messrs. Glover and Dingle proved the hit of the evening.

The Union Civica meeting in the Onrubia Theatre on Tuesday night was large and fashionable. It was called a "velada," but what's in a name? The President, Dr. Rodriguez, made a capital speech, saying that politicians could never get on without the ladies, and he was glad to see so many present. Messrs Gorostiaga, Estrada and others spoke, but the speeches of the night were those of Dr. Davison and Mr. Castellanos, who created a furore by the vigorous way in which they "pitched into" the bad times and those who have made them bad.

The committee having charge of the Eaton Subscription Fund, consisting of Mr. Brown, Manager of the Northern and of the Ensenada railways, W. N. Hiron, M. D., and Thomas H. Stockton, request us to announce that the subscription list is closed this day. The total amount received has been $2,080 m/n, which has been handed over to the widow, who has given a receipt for it, and desires us to convey her gratitude to those who have so generously contributed to her relief.

Governor Costa is working away on the economy tack with the cleanliness of all new brooms. With a stroke of the pen he has lopped over $400,000 off the estimated expenditure for this year, by dismissing scores of useless clerks, whose chief work consisted in receiving and spending their quite too high salaries. No doubt the Governor will soon fly at higher game, and for larger amounts, as there is plenty of cloth to cut from.

The doctors say that there will be another and stiffer epidemic of influenza during the winter, and it will require something stronger than Dry Champagne to tackle it effectually.

We have been favored by Mr. Florencio Garrigos, junr., with a copy of his very able thesis on "Reform of the Bankruptcy Laws," which he wrote on being recently called to the Bar. We strongly recommend merchants and bankers to read this book, in which they will find many fresh ideas.

The South Barracas people are rejoicing at the prospect of having 200 squares laid with the horrid boulders that pass for paving stones in this part of the globe. The carriage builders and bootmakers of the locality are specially glad at the prospect of broken wheels and worn boots developing greatly.

There was a mistake in our second chapter on the Exhibition yesterday. In the reference to Messrs Moore and Tudor's exhibits, "Marseilles" Manufacturing Company should have been "Massey" Manufacturing Company—the world-renowned firm at Toronto.

Good news for river travellers. A Montevidean paper says that the Platense Company is going to reduce its fares and

Soberbio Remate
De 33 Leguas kilometricas
O sean 82,500 hectareas de magnificos
CAMPOS
En la seccion IX de los Territorios Nacionales, divididos en 10 lotes, situados en las fracciones A, B y C.
El lote No. 4 que vendemos de esta ultima fraccion, linda con el pueblo General Acha, a donde muy pronto llegará el Ferro Carril (concesion Abreu) que arranca de Bahia Blanca.
Estos campos reconocen un gravamen hipotecario de 140,000 pesos en cedulas nacionales Serie A, distribuidos en lotes como se verá mas abajo y que representan $1,70 cts. por hectarea.
Base para la venta 3 pesos hectarea.

El Viernes, 16 de Mayo
A las 2 de la tarde
Remataremos por orden terminante de un propietario siempre que exceda de la infima base establecida las 82,500 hectareas del campo arriba mencionado, en lotes como sigue:—

Fraccion A, lote	4,	10,000 hectsocn	17,000 cdd
"	" "	7, 10,000 " "	17,000 "
"	" "	14, 10,000 " "	17,000 "

"	" "	3, 5,000 " "	8,500 "
"	" "	19, 2,500 " "	4,000 "

"	" "	11, 10,000 " "	17,000 "
"	C "	4, 10,000 " "	17,000 "

Una de las mejores referencias que podemos hacer de estos campos es que en los lotes que ofrecemos en venta han estado establecidas las tolderias de "Utracan", "Chilen" "Mulal-Huaco", "Quehuá", "Trena Lafquen," "Laguna de la Gama" y otras como puede verse en los planos.
La proximidad de estos campos al Pueblo General Acha a donde muy pronto llegará la via ferrea; el gravamen hipotecario que excede en mas de un 50 ojo a la base establecida para la venta y la orden terminante que tenemos de vender excediendo esta á pesar de ser tan infima; nos hace llamar la atencion de los estancieros, agricultores y cuantos quieran invertir bien sus ahorros, lo coloquen en estos campos, en la seguridad de que dentro de muy poco tiempo tan pronto como se inaugure la linea ferrea habian multiplicado su capital.
Si á esto se agrega la desvalorizacion de la moneda por la alta cotizacion del metalico se comprenderá que no puede darse mas acertada colocacion.
Como de costumbre el comprador que se haga cargo de la hipoteca, tomará las cedulas a precio de Bolsa y el titulo de plaza el dia antes de la escrituracion abonando el excedente al contado.
En el acto de firmar el boleto abonará el 5 ojo sobre el importe total de su compra.

it seems that opinion favors the project. The new concern will be started on a metallic basis, that is to say, it will have right to issue notes payable to bearer and at sight to amount of its capital, which will be twenty million dollars gold, and although this would not tend in any way to appreciate the shinplasters, it would at all events mean fresh capital for the market and a consequent alleviation of the present strain. The Government would be allowed five per cent for the coining of the bank's bullion and the usual privileges of banking would be conceded. This is a nutshell precis of the proposal which seems perfectly simple and straightforward.

Mr. Sebastian Bianchi, the popular Justice of the Peace of San Isidro, entered the magic ring to-day as stock and money broker. He was welcomed by all and received a brokerly ovation, a compliment to his dual abilities as magistrate and as broker.

Four leagues of land, comprising lot 9 in Section IX., have been bought by Mr. Prades at 9500 dollars per league.

Business at the second hour was marked by a furthet fall in gold, and although the heavy settlers retired when they found the market collapsing the sale left off weak at 231 for cash and dates, which is a fall of nearly 15 points since yesterday - a fact that shows the brittle state of the market. Stocks were not to say stiff, as brokers were principally busy with the gold, so that the stock was quiet. National E Cedulas shot up five points and it was said that the purchases were for shipment.

Exchange brokers reported the market dull and flat owing to this being mail day. The National Bank has put its rate down to 47¼d and 5 francs, taking paper for gold at market rate, and in the outside market the rates were 47¾d to 48d, 5.02-03 francs Paris and 5.03 04 Antwerp.

The Pacific packet Potosi, Captain Hayes, arrived in Montevideo to-day and leaves immediately for the West Coast. On her next trip out she will come straight up to this port, a new departure for these liners, which will be followed by all successive packets.

The following is a summary of operations effected this evening at the second ring:—

Mr. G. Colladon, who has just arrived from London to the house of S. B. Hale and Co., was welcomed on 'Change.

Advices from Santa Fe are most favourable; nothing but new colonies starting in every direction, and by farmers and their friends of old colonies who have done so well that they are now spreading out and making new settlements. Nevertheless, there is a great shrinkage in the value of lands in Santa Fe, and we heard to-day of a league of land adjoining a colony and close to a railway station offered for sale at 20,000 m/n. paper and not sold. Last year this land would have fetched four times this price.

We trust Minister Uriburu's attention has been called to the statement in one of the papers that the offices opened in Paris for the sale of 24,000 leagues of land are the grand saloons in the Grand Hotel, and cost 350f. per day. If such extravagance is to be tolerated, we shall have to sell a very large area to cover office expenses.

We note in the London papers received that the price of the shares of the Buenos Aires Great Southern Railway, compared with last year, show a fall of 44 points. Cedulas I were bought a month ago in London by an Irish banker at 25, we write to us for information about the stock. We ra her fi ttile our countryman made a very lucky purchase.

Messrs Daza Rivas and Co's project now before the Senate to canalize the Rio Pilcomayo from its mouth to the 22nd parallel in Bolivia and colonize the lands on the right-bank, is a most important one. The company will canalize the river by sections, the first from Puerto Patria to Espera, second from Espera to Piquerenda, and the third the remaining stretch, undertaking to put on the river 6 steamers of not less than 150 tons each With regard to the colonies they will consist of 20,000 families to be put on the lands within six years, the company paying the Government 1000 dollars for each league they occupy.

In spite of all the rain deposits in Rosario being checked up with cereals the arrivals from the colonies daily are large, amounting yesterday to 40,000 bags wheat, 2000 bags maiz-, 800 bags flour, and 1150 bags Sinp.' The s.s. Tuscany cleared for Liverpool with a large cargo of wheat, hides and wool and the Brenda with 7000 bags wheat which will be supplemented in this port.

Advices from the camp district are most favorable. The fine weather has favored the lambing wonderfully, and the increase in the flocks may be set down at 60 o/o all round and no mortality, which is a grand thing for the sheepfarmers, who lost heavily in this way during the past two seasons and were only saved by the grand prices they got for their wool.

The emigration figures are very serious and shew an alarming tendency towards swelling still further what it would be useless to ignore. The following is a list of steamers cleared and to clear with their respective complement of passengers—

Antonio Lopez...	950
Nord-America....	1246
Carlo R.....	143
Rosario	850
Brasil.....	174
Manila	200
To clear—

The usual drawing of Constructor Obligations comes off to-morrow.

The following is the latest shipping intelligence:—

Riachuelo—Dryden, Bellanoch, Chantrey and Wyndcliffe.

South Basin—Lyndhurst, Waldensian, Chaucer and Portefia.

No. 1 Dock—Carn Brae, Zenobia and Euclid.

The steamship Hydarues, Houston line, which arrived in the Outer Roads on Monday, was expected in the Boca yesterday as soon as the fog lifted.

The Carn Brae was expecting to leave yesterday for San Lorenzo to load cereals.

The Tasso, Captain Dilley, was to leave same date with cereals for Antwerp. She calls at Montevideo.

The National steamship Tyr, which has repeatedly postponed her sailing for the Far South, will most probably clear to-morrow (Thursday). The transport Villarino is also expected to leave for Montevideo where she goes into dry dock.

The Argentina, now in No. 1 Dock, after entering dry dock in Montevideo will start on a cruise for the United States and other countries.

The bark Queen of the Fleet, of St John's, New Brunswick, Captain Sweyne, left the Outer Roads on May 13th for that city, in ballast. She was in charge of Mr. Graham, river pilot, as far as Punta Indio.

The American bq. Lilian, Captain Mitchell, was expecting to clear yesterday from this port with wool and hides for Boston, U. S. A.

The bark Olive Mount of St. John's New Brunswick, Capt. Foley, leaves to-day in ballast for Barbadoes.

The Norwegian bark Diana, bound to Rosario with a cargo of lumber, was shipwrecked on Saturday on the Martin Garcia bar. It seems that on striking, her keel came bodily off, the vessel herself submerging in half an hour; the crew who are now in the Boca, having barely time to save their effects. The fine American ship Henriette is aground at the entrance to the Boca channel with a cargo of lumber. On the first high tide she will make this port.

Government has given the necessary instructions to sell six manzanas of Government land at the Puerto Madero, facing Dock No. 1. The upset price is $15.33 gold.

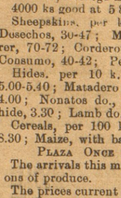
Cold Weather.



One of Adams and Westlake's Celebrated Kerosene stoves is a real comfort at this time of the year. They burn brightly and steadily, give a good heat, require no chimney flue or stovepipe, can be carried from one room to another, and are entirely free from smell or smoke.

We have no hesitation in stating that there is no kerosene stove in the world to equal this, either in heating power or freedom from smell. Sole agents, Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine Company, limited.

This company is prepared to supply the Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machines, with their accessories, in any quantities. They are now coming into general use in Australia, where during the past season upwards of 7,000,000 of sheep have been shorn by hem; and it is confidently expected that even 20,000,000 will be shorn by them in that country this year. The following are some of their proved advantages over the ordinary shears:—

Estimated at per sheep per clip.

(1) Increase is quantity and value of wool (See testimonials).....	11d.
(2) Increased value of pelts owing to total absence of cuts.....	1
(3) Saving of 1 per cent, usual allowance for deaths resulting from cuts and stabs	2½
(4) Saving of labor and time, as the work can be performed in half the time usually occupied with the old style of shearing....	1½
Total per clip per sheep.....	16d.
(5) Total absence of suffering to the sheep.

These economies add enormously to the income of the Australian wool-growers, and are applicable relatively to sheep-farmers everywhere.

The W lesley machines may be seen in actual work at the Agricultural Rural Exhibition at Palermo.

For further particulars apply to the agents, Messrs. Agar, Cross & Co., Calle Defensa 12 & 136, Buenos Ayres, where certificates and testimonials can be seen.
